Hi Sandeep Chittimalli,

On behalf of our entire organizing team, I want to extend our deepest gratitude for your remarkable contributions as both a judge and mentor at the F1 Hackathon, held virtually on September 28th, from 9:00 AM to 5:00 PM PST.

With over 650 participants registered, this event represented one of our most ambitious hackathons to date. Your involvement was a cornerstone of its success. Throughout the day, you played a pivotal role in guiding teams through ideation and product development, helping participants refine their solutions and push their creativity to new heights. Equally important was your work as a judge. By thoughtfully applying our judging criteria and offering sharp, constructive evaluations, you ensured that our winners were chosen with fairness, rigor, and vision. Your presence elevated the experience for everyone involved, and participants consistently shared how impactful your mentorship was in shaping their projects.

This letter serves as an official acknowledgment of your essential role in this event. We're deeply appreciative of the time, energy, and expertise you shared with our community, and we hope this is just the beginning of many more collaborations to come.

Thank you once again for being such an integral part of this hackathon.
